Happiness and positive lifestyle and a government commitment

Customers Happiness newsletter is one of the initiatives of the Customers Happiness Section. It aims to spread awareness on the section's working nature, and to contribute in enhancing and strengthening the concepts of happiness to become a practice, a culture, and a working method in the TRA.

Information

Starting from 3 August 2017, the live chat service after working hours has been suspended. The live chat service will be available from Sunday to Thursday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Happiness in our terms

The customer's voice: It is the process of collecting and understanding the customers' views and direct observations, particularly in relation to their level of satisfaction and opinion towards the federal entity and its services.

Sub-services: Government services may involve various modifications based on the type of customer or the service objective. These services are generally provided by following the same procedure or by making a slight change in the process, example: license to doctors, technicians or nurses, etc.

Performance indicators

Happiness Indicator

Usage criteria

The usage criteria consists of four main areas, including:

4. Efficiency evaluation:

- Ensuring that the standards of the Customer Happiness document are fully implemented in the federal entity.
- Evaluate the impact of the Customer Happiness document.

Services Development

Studies of Customer Happiness:

The Customer Happiness Section prepares reports of service performance and service provision channels, as well as analyzes the results, clarifies the status reasons, and suggests the appropriate improvement measures. The Customer Happiness Section also examines and analyses other improvement inputs, and evaluates the improvement proposals, in order to submit reports and assessments to the Service Development Team.
